Summary

I am a dedicated freshman student at the University of Illinois at Chicago, initially majoring in biological sciences but transitioning to computer science, with a commendable volunteering background as an English tutor and as a packaging supervisor at Feed My Starving Children organization. I am not only committed to academic excellence but also have a passion for community service and making a positive impact. My experience showcases strong communication skills, leadership, compassion, and a genuine commitment to contributing to the well-being of others. As I navigate my academic journey, I am currently looking for summer internships for year 2024.
